

What do we do?

The Chaplaincy for the Homeless changes lives $12 at a time. This is the cost of an Arizona ID, the documentation that opens doors to those on the streets. A person cannot get a job, secure housing, get a food box or utilize any services meant to help them without ID and if you are homeless and broke $12 might as well be $120. The Chaplaincy also assists with the identifying documentation necessary to get state ID such as a birth certificate if a person has never had Arizona ID in the past. We also help legal immigrants/naturalized citizens replace lost, stolen, or expired immigration documentation. Hygiene kits and socks are available to our clients on a monthly basis.

How does your contribution help you?

The Chaplaincy for the Homeless is a non-profit, Arizona corporation that is exempt from federal income tax under section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is classified as a public charity under section 509 (a) (2) of the Code. Contributions to the Chaplaincy are deductible from federal taxable income under section 170 of the Code.

The Chaplaincy is also a charitable organization that qualifies for the Arizona Income Tax Credit for Contributions to Charities That Provide Assistance to the Working Poor program and contributions to the Chaplaincy may qualify for an Arizona income tax credit up to $ 400.00 (married, filing jointly, $200 filing single). Arizona Form 321 and the related instructions explain the details of the credit. Contributions to the Chaplaincy that are over the tax credit amount are still deductible from Arizona taxable income as charitable contributions.

Claiming the Arizona income tax credit for contributions to the Chaplaincy for the Homeless does not limit the amount a taxpayer may give to public schools and claim as a tax credit on Arizona Form 322 (Credit for Contributions Made or Fees Paid to Public Schools) or the amount that may be given to state tuition organizations and claimed as a tax credit on Arizona Form 323 (Credit for Contributions to Private School Organizations). These three Arizona income tax credit programs are independent of each other and taxpayers can claim credits (up to the amount of their total tax liability) for contributions to public schools, tuition granting organizations and the Chaplaincy in the same year.

CREDIT FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TO CHARITABLE ORGANIZATIONS THAT PROVIDE ASSISTANCE TO THE WORKING POOR

Arizona law provides a credit for cash contributions made to qualifying charitable organizations that provide help to the working poor. This publication provides general information about Arizona's credit for taxpayers that make contributions to qualifying charitable organizations that provide help to the working poor. For complete details, refer to the Arizona Revised Statutes. In case of inconsistency or omission in this publication, the language of the Arizona Revised Statutes will prevail.

What is the maximum amount of the credit?

For 2006 and later years, the maximum credit for contributions made to organizations that help the working poor is $400 for married taxpayers. If married taxpayers file separate returns, each spouse may claim 1/2 of the credit that would have been allowed on a joint return. The maximum credit allowed for single taxpayers or heads of households is $200.

Who may claim this credit?

This credit is available only to individuals. Corporations may not claim this credit. A partnership may not pass the credit through to its partners. An S corporation may not pass the credit through to its shareholders. To be eligible for this credit, you must claim itemized deductions on your Arizona return for the same year the credit is claimed.

How do I claim the credit?

You report the name of the qualifying charitable organization you donated to as well as the dollar amount of your donation to the Department of Revenue on Form 321. Complete Form 321 and include it when you file your tax return.

Can I claim a charitable contribution as both an Arizona tax credit and an Arizona deduction?

No. Any charitable contribution that is included in itemized deductions on your federal return must be removed from your Arizona itemized deductions if the contributions were claimed as an Arizona credit. Further, you may only claim a tax credit for your charitable contribution if the organization you donated to is considered a Qualifying Charitable Organization.

How can I determine if a charity meets the criteria to be considered a qualifying charitable organization?

You can ask to see a copy of the certification letter that the charity is required to send the Department of Revenue, or you may contact the department to see if the organization has filed a certification letter. The department publishes a list of organizations that are considered qualifying charitable organizations. The list is available on the department's website. You can also ask the following questions of the charity:

1. Is the charity exempt from federal income taxation under Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code? Or is the organization a designated community action agency that receives community services block grant program monies pursuant to 42 United States Code Section 9901?
2. Does the charity spend at least 50% of its budget on services to Arizona residents who receive Temporary Assistance for Needy Families benefits, to Arizona resident low-income households, or to chronically ill or physically disabled children who are residents of Arizona?

Can I qualify for the credit if I give to a qualifying charitable organization through an umbrella type charitable organization?

Yes. You must designate that the donation be directed to a member charitable organization or member group fund that would qualify on a standalone basis.
